

NSBE BULLETIN

UPCOMING >

LOOKING FORWARD

With summer coming to an end, the executive board is looking toward the upcoming semester. For welcome week, we are planning for Dancing on Dixie. We will have a table and a few ideas for some items to give away. We were thinking about giving NSBE masks, pens, wristbands and possibly hand sanitizer. For the upcoming freshman, we are looking forward to meeting them and showing them what the National Society of Black Engineers and Tennessee Tech is about. Our membership chair is planning on doing membership points which will allow members to win a prize at the end of the year. Along with the previously mentioned, our executive board is making steps toward to better Tennessee Tech's NSBE chapter. One of these steps includes making a resume bank. The resume bank will be separated by majors. It will be used for career fairs and other scouting events. In addition, we are sending out a newsletter to our alumni and speakers.

LEADERS >

MEET THE EXECUTIVE BOARD

For the upcoming academic year, the National Society Black Engineers, NSBE, elected a new executive board. The new president is Triston Whitescarver who is a rising junior. Triston is pursuing computer engineering with a minor in computer science. For vice president, Jymon Scott was elected. Mr. Scott is a rising junior in electrical engineer. Jymon is also attaining a math minor. The position of secretary is held by Jennifer Toney. She is a junior who studying chemical engineering along with a math minor. One of our senators is Jaquan Nelson. He is a sophomore in mechanical engineer. Mr. Mark Goron is our programs chair. Mark is a sophomore in computer science. For the membership chair, Darius Eury was elected. He is a junior pursuing civil engineering. Mrs. Shantini West is our alumni chair. Mrs. West is double majoring in mechanical engineering and engineering technology while minoring in business and German. The new TORCH chair is JaMichael Lewis. Mr. Lewis is a rising sophomore in civil engineering. Niko Prase is the telecommunication chair. Mr. Prase is a junior who is pursuing a mechanical engineering degree and a math minor.

The treasure and financial chair are vacant but the president and vice president are sharing the responsibilities until they are filled. The second senator and parliamentarian are also vacant. Although we have some position open, we are very hopefully and excited for the 2020 - 2021 academic year

